Catalog Year tells you which University Catalog edition governs your program requirements. Open elective slots are the unfilled choices in your elective blocks: 2 in Senior Computer Science Electives and 1 in Computer Science-Related Electives. The Natural Science and General Elective Credit blocks below have credits remaining but no unfilled choice slots, because any approved course applies.

Bachelor of Science, Computer Science			In Progress	Applied 86 Required 120 Remaining 34

Mason coursework 58 credits plus transfer credit 28 credits equals the 86 credits applied above. GPA is computed on the 58 Mason credits only; transfer credit carries the grade TR and is not included in GPA.

Advisor Notes		2 notes
05/06/2026, Whitfield, K.	Student intends to graduate Spring 2027. 34 credits remain across two terms, which is above a normal load, so we discussed a heavier fall or a summer term. Student has not completed CS 262, which the catalog lists as a required prerequisite for CS 367; CS 367 is in turn a required prerequisite for CS 471. Taking CS 262 in Fall 2026 keeps the Spring 2027 graduation date reachable.
05/06/2026, Whitfield, K.	Two senior computer science elective slots and one computer science-related elective slot are still unfilled. Student asked for help choosing and was referred to department advising.

Status legend. Satisfied requirement complete. In Progress partly satisfied, credits still remaining in the block. Remaining not yet satisfied. Registered you hold a seat in a section in a future term. Planned added to a term in Plan but not registered. TR transfer credit, not included in GPA. Slot an unfilled choice in an elective block. ✓ satisfied • in progress X remaining ■ milestone, a non-course requirement

This audit is an unofficial statement of progress toward the degree. It is not a transcript and it is not a guarantee of graduation. Courses may satisfy more than one requirement; credits are applied once toward the 120-credit degree total. Grades of D or higher earn credit, but some courses in the major require a minimum grade of C to satisfy a prerequisite. Your catalog year and the University Catalog govern your program requirements. Confirm all requirements with your academic advisor before registering.
